HE DID NOT BRIBE.

So Says the Jury In the Case of Sessions.

The Long Trial at Last Over—Charge of the Judge—The Jury Are Out Only a Short Time and Return With a Verdict of Not Guilty—Sessions Congratulated.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 19.—In the Sessions case Hon. D. W. Peckham made the argument for the defense. He reviewed the story of Bradley and contrasted it with Senator Sessions' story, claiming that Bradley was not entitled to belief, while Sessions' story was straightforward throughout. Attorney General Russell replied for the prosecution, claiming that Mr. Sessions had been proved guilty of the attempt to bribe, and urging on the jury that they should not allow any feelings of pity for the family of the accused or respect for the positions he had occupied to stand in the way of their duty. Judge Osborne then charged the jury. He said: "The case with which you have been intrusted and the frequent injunctions of the Court, must have told you this was no ordinary case you were called upon to try. There may be more heinous crimes, but none more affecting the well being of society. We can not but see and feel that fraud and corruption are permeating every branch of the Government, that was brought by the blood of our fathers and sustained by the blood of our children. It is a crime which has become a great evil, and it is a crime which must be stopped. I have given every liberty in this case to get out the facts. If the person charged here be guilty, no punishment can be too great which the law allows, but, gentlemen, the law demands no innocent victim. No person should be convicted unless there can be no reasonable doubt of his guilt. It is a case of great importance to him. He has been so respected that he has been sent by his own neighbors to represent them in the Senate. Now you should be careful that the evidence satisfies you beyond a reasonable doubt before you can pronounce him guilty, but if it does, you must do your duty. It was a matter of doubt in my mind also whether there was such a crime as this charged which can be punished by the law, but after careful consideration of the constitution and law, I charge you that the indictment is correct, and therefore you have nothing to do except to determine the question of the guilt or innocence of the accused. Mr. Bradley does not claim, but denies, that there was a criminal acceptance, so the full crime of bribery cannot be maintained. Mr. Bradley's story is that Senator Sessions first offered him $100 and afterward met him at supper and asked him where he could see him, and then they went up stairs and Mr. Sessions gave him the $2,000 in question. The money furnishes no direct evidence that Sessions paid to Bradley. The only evidence really is Bradley's testimony. You are to construe all evidence upon the theory of guilt and take all circumstances in the light of the explanations. I would urge upon you the necessity of agreeing, not because I would have any juror sacrifice his convictions, but I hope in this case you will be able to do so. I hope if you feel the crime has been committed you will not allow the position of the defendant to affect you, and on the other hand, if you are not convinced beyond a reasonable doubt of his guilt, you will pronounce him clear and send him home to his family clear of stain."

The Court then took a recess till 10 o'clock in the evening. At that time the jury appeared and rendered a verdict of "Not Guilty." The Court then discharged Mr. Sessions, who was immediately surrounded by his friends and warmly congratulated. He also shook hands with the jurymen, who congratulated him on the result of the trial.

PRESBYTERIANS.

Meeting of the Pennsylvania Synod at Pittsburgh.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 19.—The Synod of Pennsylvania met at 3 o'clock in the Second Presbyterian Church in this city. It comprises 331 churches, 835 ministers and 433,669 members. The altar was draped with black out of respect to the memory of the late Moderator, Rev. Dr. Samuel J. Wilson. Rev. Allison, editor of the Presbyterian Banner, of Pittsburgh, called the meeting to order. Rev. Dr. Butler, of Clearfield, was chosen Temporary Moderator. The election of a successor to Dr. Wilson was then proceeded with. Revs. Drs. S. C. Logan, of Scranton; Wm. P. Breed and Alfred Nevins, of Philadelphia, and W. R. Bingham, of Chester, were placed in nomination. The vote resulted as follows: Breed, 191; Logan, 76; Bingham, 40; Nevins, 27. Dr. Breed was declared elected Moderator, and was duly installed. The session will last until Tuesday evening. The most important question will be the future composition of the Synod, many maintaining that the body is unwieldy, and should be cut up into several synods.

The Kansas Land Decision.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 19.—Commissioner McFarland, of the Land Office of the Interior Department, has made a decision that 51,546 acres of land in Kansas, west of Nettleton, claimed by the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad Company, shall be restored to public domain and be opened to pre-emption under the Homestead laws. It is held, here, that this decision is final under the law and that the Secretary of the Interior has no power to revoke or amend it.

JAY-EYE-SEE.

A Horse That Is a Big Bonanza to His Owner.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Jay-Eye-See will probably go into winter quarters early next month. Mr. Case has, since his departure from New York, received many offers for the horse despite the prohibitive price of $25,000 which was placed on him by the government. People in spots are known to have, say his winnings foot up very nearly $200,000. On the Monday after Jay-Eye-See beat St. Julian, Case bought a $1,000 camel hair shawl for his wife and offered in payment a check for $1,500. The proprietor naturally hesitated about accepting it. "I don't know you, sir," he said. "My name is Case, of Racine, Wisconsin," he replied. The merchant looked blank. "I'm the owner of Jay-Eye-See," said Mr. Case. The merchant jumped up. "I beg your pardon, I did not know that." Mr. Case then drew his wallet, which was full to overflowing with checks ranging in value from $300 to $4,000. "See if you can find a check among them whose maker you know," said Mr. Case. A suitable one was found, and as Mr. Case left, he said: "This is all Jay-Eye-See money."

ST. LOUIS ITEMS.

The Switchmen's Strike and the Police Scandals.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 19.—The small army of Deputy Sheriffs and Deputy Marshals guarding the freight yards in East St. Louis were reinforced by thirty new men this morning, but otherwise the situation of the switchmen's strike remains unchanged. The roads remain firm in their determination not to consider the demands of the strikers until they return to work. All the roads have their clerks, yardmasters, etc., doing duty as switchmen and are handling some freight, but it is slow work. Freight is constantly accumulating at the eastern end of the bridge and the blockade is causing the most serious inconveniences to business.

Governor Crittenden arrived in the city last evening in obedience to a summons to testify concerning the police scandals. He was in consultation with Lutz and Caruth, two of the obstinate Police Commissioners, until 10 o'clock last night. He went before the Grand Jury at 11 o'clock this morning, and is now undergoing the tortures of cross-examination.

AS TO THINKING.

Monsieur Capel Gives Some Points on the Subject.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Monsieur Capel lectured to a very large congregation last night. In the course of his address he said: "It is asserted by many that because we are Catholics we sacrifice, dwarf or put in bondage our reason. The Catholics have two fields of knowledge—that which is limited by reason and that which comes by revelation. We are satisfied that the messenger who brings us revelations is the envoy of God; therefore, our reason receives it. There is very little original thought. We all think that we think, but really very few think. We repeat what the few of us who think have said, stroke ourselves and think that we have thought. The theologians of the Catholic church can hold their own even in science against all comers. The Protestant Government of England sent out a Jesuit on astronomical expeditions and employs a Jesuit to make important historical researches."

IRON WORKERS.

Relations of Employers to the Amalgamated Association.

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—In connection with the recent Convention of the Iron and Steel Workers, Superintendent Parkes of the North Chicago Rolling Mills Company, was asked yesterday whether western manufacturers would be likely to recognize the Amalgamated Association in the future or treat with its committees in cases of dispute. He preferred not to give an opinion as to the probable doings of manufacturers generally, but, speaking for his own company, said its general policy always had been to deal directly with the workmen and allow no interference of a third party. The company had always refused to recognize the Amalgamated Association and would not do so while it could help it. He anticipated no difficulty with any of the employers for a long period. If arbitration or consultation should be necessary in settling next year's wages, the company would deal directly with the workmen and no others.

FORAKER'S STRENGTH.

His Late Brilliant Campaign Winning Him Great Confidence.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 19.—Many Foraker clubs throughout the State are keeping up their organizations with the view to pushing him as candidate for Governor in 1885, his vigorous and skillful campaign having won him an unusual degree of confidence among Republicans throughout the State. Many Republican papers are also urging the Republican members of the Legislature to give him their complimentary vote for United States Senator, as a definite recognition of his services to the party.

An Ejected Passenger Sues the R. & O.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 19.—A suit was brought in the Superior Court by Albert H. Myers against the B. & O. Railroad Company for $10,000 damages, for injuries received from ejection from their cars between the Relay House and this city, and being thrown down a forty foot embankment. The plaintiff states that he bought his ticket and was ejected without reason.

Vanderbilt Recovered.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Mr. Wm. H. Vanderbilt has entirely recovered from the effects of his accident last Wednesday. He appeared on the road last evening with Vanderbilts.

HANGING OF HOVEY.

The New York Murderer Successfully Swings Off.

His Last Night on Earth—How He Spent the Morning—Scenes on the Scaffold—The Last of a Villainous Scoundrel.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Edward Hovey, the slayer of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Fannie Verulley, was duly hanged this morning in the Tombs prison yard. The murderer's last night on earth was spent very restlessly. He moved around on his cot frequently during the night and seemed entirely unable to compose himself for sleep. He arose this morning early, and was visited by his spiritual adviser and lawyer. The latter wished him good-bye. Hovey, in the language of one of the Deputy Sheriff's, looked more dead than alive when he arose to dress himself. Everything possible was done to cheer him up, but the efforts in this direction had but little impression on him. When his breakfast, consisting of rolls, coffee and eggs, was brought him, Hovey dragged his chair in a perfunctory way toward the little table upon which the meal was placed and seated himself with a deep drawn sigh. He quietly surveyed the food for a moment, and then, drawing back from the table, said he could eat nothing. Father Durangel, the Rev. Mr. Gilbert and Deputy Warden Finley prevailed upon Hovey to attempt at least to eat. They succeeded in inducing him to take the coffee, but they could not get him to take any more. Soon after arising he had been given a dose of chloral and he now wanted whisky. In view of his condition it was agreed that he should have some stimulant before being led to the gallows. At 7 o'clock the Sheriff's deputies had arrived, headed by Sheriff Davidson and Under Sheriff Stevens. These formed a square around the scaffold. The Sheriff immediately entered the prison and proceeding to the condemned man's cell read the death warrant to him. At the conclusion of the reading the executioner and his assistant pinioned the murderer's arms and the procession to the scaffold was then formed. It was headed by Sheriff Davidson and his Under Sheriff. Hovey was grasped on either side by Deputy Sheriffs and more or less supported along the route. The murderer was dressed in a black suit but wore no collar. The hangman lost no time in completing his work. The moment Hovey was placed under the scaffold he tied his legs, and then, after a few parting words between the unfortunate man and his spiritual advisers, drew the black cap over his face, adjusted the noose and, quicker than it takes to tell it, cut the rope and Hovey was launched into eternity at exactly 7:56 a. m. As the body rebounded from the cross piece the hands and legs became rigid with muscular contraction. The hands turned blue. In a few minutes the last outward signs of life were manifested in the struggling body. At 8:10 he was pronounced dead, and shortly after the body was lowered into the coffin and turned over to his friends.

ST. LOUIS' GRIEVANCE.

An Urgent Petition Presented to Governor Crittenden.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 19.—A petition, signed by over two thousand St. Louisians, was presented to Governor Crittenden at the Southern Hotel last night. The petition mentions in scathing terms the conduct of the Police Board in removing ex-Chief of Police Campbell, and concludes as follows: "If arbitrary dictation, personal spleen and political bias shall operate to make or unmake, not only the chiefs of the police force, but shall be the avowed spring of action operating upon the appointment of even the rank and file of the policemen, the incentives to hazardous and manly action fail and the influence of corruption will soon have full sway. Our homes are our own, and we will not have them jeopardized. They stand to us before party or any State accommodations, or the corrupt motives and interests of secret rings and office brokers. Our business and commerce we have created and we ask the State to protect them and allow them to prosper. We refuse tamely to view the ministers of the people and the intended guardians of the public welfare neglecting, or purposely sacrificing, the great interest. Men of criminal proclivities and practices, our people believe, have too much to say about who shall enforce the law, and too little to answer for before the Bar of Justice. The influence of these grievances has recently culminated by the vote of three of the Board of Police Commissioners for the removal of the Chief of Police, John W. Campbell. If he is to be stricken down by the evil influences at work, we know that our very best and dearest interests and rights are assailed and we speak boldly to you, the Chief Executive officer of the State of Missouri, and ask that you request the resignations of the persons endeavoring to perpetuate the outrage, and fill their places with pure and honest men."

Fire in a Child's Hospital.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—The wood work surrounding a hot air flue in the dining-room on the first floor of the Nursery and Child's Hospital in Lexington avenue took fire at 5 o'clock last evening. The burning flooring was cut away and the fire was put out quickly with extinguishers carried in by the firemen. The nurses acted with commendable coolness.

A Queer Priest and a Queer Congregation.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 19.—Father Pitass, who narrowly escaped lynching by his congregation sometime ago, was yesterday arrested on the charge of selling liquor without a license. He gave bail before the United States Commissioners. His parishioners have had another riot.

JAMES B. STEEDMAN.

Death of the Distinguished Soldier at Toledo, O.

TOLEDO, Oct. 19.—General James B. Steedman died at 2:45 Thursday afternoon, of pneumonia, after a protracted illness. Deceased was a prominent army officer during the war of the rebellion, and was made a Major General for conspicuous bravery at the battle of Chickamauga. At the time of his death General Steedman held the position of Chief of Police of this city. His age was sixty-seven years. His end was peaceful.

The funeral will take place in Toledo on Monday October 22, at 2:30 p. m. under the auspices of Fourth Post, Grand Army of the Republic. Chaplain Deacon, of the post, pastor of the Central Congregation Church, will officiate. The remains will be interred in Woodlawn Cemetery. The remains will be in state in the city hall building from 2 p. m. tomorrow until the hour of the funeral. General Steedman leaves a young wife and two small children. His funeral will be the largest military funeral ever held in Ohio. General Hancock and other prominent military officers will be in attendance.

ENGLISH LIBERALS.

Important Meeting of the Party Yesterday at Leeds.

LEEDS, Eng., Oct. 19.—At the second and last day of the conference of the Liberal Party to-day to elicit and express the opinion of that Party upon subject of Parliamentary Reform, the following subjects were discussed: The resolutions submitted yesterday, redistribution, minority representations, and subsidiary questions connected with that of Parliamentary Reform. In the evening a great public meeting was held in the Town Hall, at which the Right Hon. John Bright presided. Speeches were made by the Liberal Party in Parliament. Mr. Bright spoke at length in advocacy of measures compelling the House of Lords to pass bills coming to that body a second time from the House of Commons.

The London Stock Market.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—The stock market toward the close showed considerable activity, especially in the Vanderbilt and other American railway shares, which closed strong with a marked advance over the closing of the evening previous. This firmness and activity in American shares was due in a great measure to the purchase of large blocks on orders from leading bankers at Frankfurt and Amsterdam. The bears seeing that bonafide buyers were in the market, began to cover, which had the effect of strengthening the whole list of securities and causing more confidence to the future outlook for investments, the general impression being that a healthy reaction had set in.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—The Daily News, in its financial article this morning, commenting on the strengthening of the stock market last night and the renewed activity caused by large purchases of American railway shares on German account, asks the question, if New York bears won't soon find out that their market has been oversold, that American railway stocks have reached bottom prices, and repurchase and become bulls instead of bears.

Coteridge at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Lord Chief Justice Coteridge, arrived here yesterday. He was met at the depot by a committee of the Bar Association and by Attorney General Brewster, and escorted to Wornley's Hotel. While here he will be the guest of the Washington Bar Association. He will be received by the President to-day and then taken in hand and shown the places of interest here.

Last night a grand reception was given at the residence of Secretary of State Frelinghuysen in honor of the Chief Justice. The President and Cabinet, Chief Justice, and Justices of the Supreme Court, Justices of the Court of Claims, Justices of the District Court and prominent members of the Bar Association, and many members of Army and Navy were present. The British Minister and many of the members of the foreign legations were present. This was the first regular reception this season and was a most brilliant success.

LIQUOR DEALERS.

The Recent Massachusetts Decision and Its Results.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 19.—At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Law and Order League it was unanimously resolved that it is expected that all persons whose business is affected by the recent Supreme Court decision, relative to open bars, will take immediate steps to comply with the law which has now been construed by the Supreme Court, and that, for the present, the League will await a movement on the part of the dealers and the efforts of the constituted authorities to enforce the law. According to the decision all hotel and saloon bars not provided with lunches are illegal.

Yankee Doodle Saves the Fort.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 19.—During the banquet of the National Carriage Makers Association, at Carl's opera house last evening, the curtain caught fire from a lighted cigar in the hands of an intoxicated man, creating quite a panic among the 700 or 800 guests. The band in attendance started up "Yankee Doodle," the blaze was extinguished and the banquet went on without further interruption.

Threatened Switchmen's Strike in Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 19.—The Switchmen employed in the Cincinnati yards are much dissatisfied with their pay, $1.90 per day, and threaten to strike for $2.25. They are watching the result of the St. Louis strike, and should that succeed, will undoubtedly follow suit and quit work unless their demands are acceded to.

GEN. J. B. STEEDMAN died at Toledo, Ohio, on Thursday.

The Kentucky Synod adjourned to meet at Hopkinsville next year.

Up to this time there have been thirty-one cases of yellow fever at Brewton, Alabama, and eighteen deaths.

The official returns for the Iowa election give Sherman (Rep.) a majority over Kline (Dem.) for Governor of 25,127.

O'DONNELL has been indicted for the murder of Carey, the informer. He pleaded not guilty and his trial has been postponed until November 21st.

The First National Bank of Chicago has notified its 130 clerks that they must all procure bonds which will range from $4,000 to $5,000 each, and aggregate over $320,000.

Says the Flemingsburg Times-Democrat: S. G. Rogers was formerly spoken of as "Captain," but since he shot his brothers the State press generally mention him as "Colonel."

GOVERNOR ELI MURRAY, of Utah, made a report to the Secretary of the Interior on the condition of affairs in that Territory with reference to the "Mormon problem." He says: "A combination to nullify the laws of Congress has long existed in Utah. This conspiracy held open rebellion at one time and continues at all times to evade and defeat the plain will of Congress and the President and the adjudication of the Supreme Court. I am compelled to warn you, Mr. Secretary, and through you the country, of the dangers that beset the country in this irrepressible conflict, and to make in this report an earnest appeal for the justification of all wrongs and the establishment of good government by Congress, which undoubtedly possesses the power, and I believe it to be its duty to do quickly. The history of all States demonstrates that times come when military aid is necessary to support the civil authority. I know of no reason that takes Utah out of the rule. I present with necessity, the recommendation that it is to be made lawful for soldiers of the United States to be used for execution of processes out of the Courts of the United States." He further says that, "notwithstanding the law of 1862, forbidding bigamy, it continues to be openly taught and practiced, and that the Legislature of the Territory created by congress not only joins, but leads in the successful nullification of this law."

A vast concourse of people assisted at the laying of the corner stone by the Czar and Czarina of Russia of the new church to be erected over the spot where Alexander II. was killed.

Craft's Execution.
New York Tribune.

The authorities of Kentucky deserve much credit for the way in which they have dealt with this man. Public opinion was bitter against him and two others, who killed two girls and a boy at Ashland, in 1881. Great vigilance was necessary to keep Krait from the hands of the mob. To protect him, it is said, cost the State sixteen lives. But he was fairly tried at length, was found guilty, and now has been judicially put to death. The whole course of the authorities in sternly insisting, at all costs, that Krait should not be punished until he had been convicted, and then, with equal firmness, insisted in hanging him after he had been condemned, deserves the highest praise.

Civil Rights Decision. Views of Colored Men on the Subject.

A despatch from Washington says: There are indications that the colored men will not be a unit in maintaining, as Fred. Douglas does, that the decision of the U. S. Supreme Court in the Civil Rights case has put the negro back twenty years. Rev. Dr. Laws, for instance, the colored clergyman, who was a delegate to the Louisville Convention, says: "As to our constitutional citizenship, I think the Constitution guarantees all the rights we ask for, and that is a surer guarantee than any class legislation which, enacted by one party, may be repealed by another. I am satisfied with the decision, so far as I am concerned; and I know one thing about it, that it is a useless law. It has never done any good in any case. It has not put anybody into first-class accommodations in the South, nor removed anybody from them in the North."

Similar views are expressed by John F. Cook, the colored Collector of Taxes in this district. Niles, the Arkansas Separatist says: "I do not want such a law. It gave the negroes more rights than the white people, and the mutton-heads can't see it." Mr. Niles has been unfortunate in his appeal to the Attorney General, who replied that the United States has no power to redress the grievances of the colored people in the State of Arkansas. Mr. Niles in answer, issues a pronouncement urging the colored people to leave the country.

The greater portion of the colored men, however, are very much dissatisfied with the decision, and the mass meeting, which is called by them for next Monday night, will probably not be without political significance. Colored and white speakers have been invited, and an effort will be made to formulate a new issue.

Anecdotes From New Mexico.

Denver (Col.) Inter-Ocean.

Chief Justice Axtell sends us the following New Mexico stories:

At the Mora (New Mexico) Court complaint was made by a husband against his wife for assault and battery. "Guilty or not guilty?" asked the judge. "Why, Judge," replied she, "I didn't batter him any. He come foolin' round me, and I jest give him a little push, and he fell over a wagon and hurt himself!"

A man asked to be excused from jury duty on account of the necessity of attending to his harvest. He detailed the facts and concluded, under the circumstances, "Judge, my time is almost valuable."

A boy, whose brother had been killed, was put on the witness stand to testify against the prisoner Jose. "Do you know what the truth is?" he has asked to test his capability as a witness. "Yes, sir. 'What is it?' 'Jose shot my brother.'"

To a settler: "Where is your neighbor?" "Well, he went over to Vegas to see a man with whom he had a little difficulty and they hauled him back in a box."

Traveler, to enterprising citizen: "You have put up a fine building here." "Just tolerable." "I think it first rate. It's a credit to the town." "A what?" "A credit to the town." "Not by a blamed sight! We paid every dollar in clean cash."

Old-time lawyer, complaining: "We used always to defend an assault with deadly weapons, or an assault with intent to kill for $50, and now these high-toned lawyers, charge $250 to $400, and I know of a case of charging $750! I tell you, gentlemen, it is just ruining the business."

Disgraced in death by a hangman's rope, Ellis Craft has at last found a resting place in a grave dug in a field on the farm of Col. John M. Burns, the second which was dug to receive his body. A brother of Craft has dreamed: "I saw my brother in the heavenly world. He was a central figure of a group, and clad in white raiment. Around him stood the men whom he accused in this life of swearing his life away, with the addition of the son of a certain rich man, and he stood with bloody garments just before brother Ellis, who was pointing his finger at him."—Cincinnati Evening Post.

I wonder if Belle and Mary
And Susan and Jane and all,

They keep just over the way,
To be had when the summer dresses
And hats are laid away?

"SARAH BENHART" is in jail at Flemingsburg for vagrancy.

Rabbits and partridges were offered for sale in Maysville this week.

Nearly all the tobacco in Bracken county has been safely housed.

LOUISVILLE is said to be flooded with counterfeit half-dollars. Look out for them.

Two gas lamps are to be put up on Second street extension and another at the terminus of the street railway in the west end.

If you would have appetite, flesh, color, strength and vigor, take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which will confer them upon you in rapid succession.

C. H. ASHTON, of Flemingsburg, was run over by a cow on Thursday, and almost as badly hurt as some persons in this city have been by hogs.

THE RIPLEY BEE says: "Our friend, Langhorne M. Tubb, is a candidate for city clerk of Maysville. Langhorne is fully qualified to do the duties of the office, and we should be glad to see him get the appointment."

Why go about with that aching head? Try Ayer's Pills. They will relieve the stomach, restore the digestive organs to healthy action, remove the obstructions that depress nerves and brain, and thus cure your headache permanently.

ANOTHER excursion to Louisville would be a popular move. The railroad authorities would do well to make the arrangement, as an entire train might be filled from this neighborhood just now. What do you say, Messrs. railroad folks?

THAT old sow stole two baskets of fish from John Wheeler instead of one as stated. We make this statement through a desire to set the hogs right. One basket, we are informed was found in a wallow on Third street, and the remains of the other in a wallow at the foot of Market.

MESSRS. OWENS & BARKLEY, agents for the Mosler Safe and Lock Company, have in the last several months sold about twenty-five safes, some of them large and expensive ones. The safe lately supplied to the Maysville Coal Elevators was furnished by Messrs. Owens & Barkley.

THE fall trade has opened unusually dull in Maysville—Lexington Transcript.
That is a great mistake. Trade has been good from the start and our merchants have never been better prepared for the fall season. The stocks are much larger than usual and embrace full lines of everything likely to be called for by the country trade. The fall business has opened well and a brisk season is looked for here.

REV. R. B. GARRETT, pastor of the Baptist Church, Carlisle, was on the 19th inst. married in Mt. Sterling to Miss Anna Laura Howe, daughter of a prominent citizen of Montgomery county. The following is a syllabus of the lecture: The world prepared for life—the mystery of life—God calls for it—the development theory—Darwinism—only an hypothesis—the great forests that made coal—God's wisdom in providing the coal banks—the appearance of sun and moon as time-measures—the mission of the stars—this Earth the most important globe known to us—man the apex of creation.
